In my opinion, the Department of Justice or government and a group of people including the judge that first tried the case, and the state attorney generals that joined the case and the news media with their lip service in general, all were banded together because they could not compete. Microsoft was treating the public fairly plus doing a better job of developing new software at a better price then their competition. I think it is time for everyone to tiptoe away and let Microsoft do an even better job than they have before.

Thank you,
